this study examines the children s books of three extraordinary british writers j k rowling diana wynne jones and terry pratchett and investigates their sophisticated use of narrative strategies not only to engage children in reading but to educate them into becoming mature readers and indeed individuals the book demonstrates how in quite different ways these writers establish reader expectations by drawing on conventions in existing genres only to subvert those expectations their strategies lead young readers to evaluate for themselves both the power of story to shape our understanding of the world and to develop a sense of identity and agency rowling jones and pratchett provide their readers with fantasies that are pleasurable and imaginative but far from encouraging escape from reality they convey important lessons about the complexities and challenges of the real world and how these may be faced and solved all three writers deploy the tropes and imaginative possibilities of fantasy to disturb challenge and enlarge the world of their readers the first study to look at the intersection of the discourse of the anthropocene within the two highly influential storytelling modes of fantasy and myth this book shows the need for stories that articulate visions of a biocentric ecological civilization fantasy and myth have long been humanity s most advanced technologies for collective dreaming today they are helping us adopt a biocentric lens re kin us with other forms of life and assist us in the transition to an ecological civilization deliberately moving away from dystopian narratives toward anticipatory imaginations of sustainable futures this volume blends chapters by top scholars in the fields of fantasy myth and young adult literature with personal reflections by award winning authors and illustrators of books for young audiences including shaun tan jane yolen katherine applegate and joseph bruchac chapters cover the works of major fantasy authors such as j r r tolkien terry prachett j k rowling china miéville barbara henderson jeanette winterson john crowley richard powers george r r martin and kim stanley robinson they range through narratives set in the uk usa nigeria ghana pacific islands new zealand and australia across the chapters fantasy and myth are framed as spaces where visions of sustainable futures can be designed with most detail and nuance rather than merely criticizing the ecocidal status quo the book asks how mythic narratives and fantastic stories can mobilize resistance around ideas necessary for the emergence of an ecological civilization
